

In rural South Georgia it is difficult to get regular and reliable updates on weather conditions on regular radio. XM radio is available and there when you need it without having to hunt through the channels. If you have ever had to evacuate your home for a hurricane you will appreciate the importance of regular and dependable weather reporting in your car - and XM was the only one that filled the bill. Please keep it available for those of us who are willing to subscribe to XM